To be or not to be ASBG?

A famous quote from William Shakespeare, except of course the ASBG part. The rumor student government is it's not just a rumor...it's a Body Government has called Associated Student in particular besides any 'body' we're Clatsop forgive you if you hap-'body' for awhile. Some get used to.

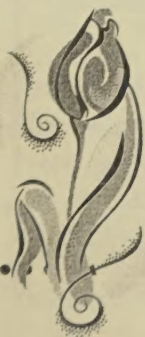

has been going around that going by a new name. Well, fact! The Associated Student dropped the 'Body' and is now Government. Not for any rea-the fact that we're not just Community College! We'll pen to slip and include the changes take a little time to ??Have you been using your workstudy hours??

If not, the Associated Student Government (ASG) needs your help. You can make money using workstudy hours while learning more about your student government. A great opportunity to get involved in student leadership, plan and conduct events, and have FUN, too!

LET IT REALLY SINK IN - THEN CHOOSE .

John is the kind of guy you love to hate. He is always in a good mood and always has something positive to say. When someone would ask him how he was doing, he would reply, "If I were any better, I would be twins!"

He was a natural motivator.

If an employee was having a bad day, John was there telling the employee how to look on the positive side of the situation.

Seeing this style really made me curious, so one day I went up and asked him, "I don't get it!"

You can't be a positive person all of the time. How do you do it?"

He replied, "Each morning I wake up and say to myself, you have two choices today. You can choose to be in a good mood or ... you can choose to be in a bad mood.

I choose to be in a good mood."

Each time something bad happens, I can choose to be a victim or...I can choose to learn from it. I choose to learn from it.

Every time someone comes to me complaining, I can choose to accept their complaining or... I can point out the positive side of life. I choose the positive side of life.

"Yeah, right, it's not that easy," I protested.

"Yes, it is," he said. "Life is all about choices. When you cut away all the junk, every situation is a choice. You choose how you react to situations.

You choose how people affect your mood.

You choose to be in a good mood or bad mood. The bottom line: It's your choice how you live your life."

I reflected on what he said. Soon hereafter, I left the Tower Industry to start my own business We lost touch, but I often thought about him when I made a choice about life instead of reacting to it.

Several years later, I heard that he was involved in a serious accident, falling some 60 feet from a communications tower.

After 18 hours of surgery and weeks of intensive care, he was released from the hospital with rods placed in his back.

I saw him about six months after the accident.

Birthday Celebration

LIT celebrates birthdays once a month for everyone who has a birthday during the month. A schedule of celebrations is not currently set, but look for information to be posted at the LIT Room (T209) for a celebration of birthdays in May.

When I asked him how he was, he replied, "If I were any better, I'd be twins... Wanna see my scars?"

I declined to see his wounds, but I did ask him what had gone through his mind as the accident took place.

"The first thing that went through my mind was the well-being of my soon-to-be born daughter," he replied. "Then, as I lay on the ground, I remembered that I had two choices: I could choose to live or...I could choose to die. I chose to live."

"Weren't you scared? Did you lose consciousness?" I asked.

He continued, "...the paramedics were great.

They kept telling me I was going to be fine. But when they wheeled me into the ER and I saw the expressions on the faces of the doctors and nurses, I got really scared. In their eyes, I read 'he's a dead man'. I knew I needed to take action."

"What did you do?" I asked.

"Well, there was a big burly nurse shouting questions at me," said John.

"She asked if I was allergic to anything. 'Yes, I replied.' The doctors and nurses stopped working as they waited for my reply. I took a deep breath and yelled, 'Gravity'."

Over their laughter, I told them, "I am choosing to live. Operate on me as if I am alive, not dead."

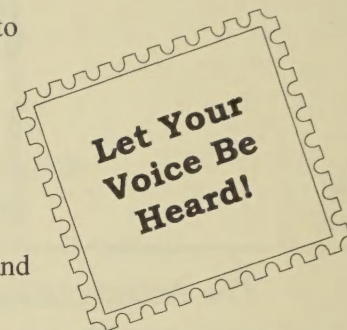

He lived, thanks to the skill of his doctors, but also because of his amazing attitude... I learned from him that every day we have the choice to live fully.

Attitude, after all, is everything .

Therefore do not worry about tomorrow, for tomorrow will worry about itself.

Each day has enough trouble of its own" Matthew 6:34.

After all today is the tomorrow you worried about yesterday.

Clatsop Community College New Campus Development Questions and Answers May 2006

Why does Clatsop County need a new community college campus?

The residents of Clatsop County need and deserve educational opportunity and the facilities necessary to support that opportunity for the next 50 years and beyond.

- Our current facilities date back to 1908 and their continuing degradation has now brought us to an impasse: adaptation of our current facilities is no longer an effective or prudent strategy for meeting our students' needs.
- Recent citations by the Northwest Commission of Colleges and Universities (our regional accrediting agency) as well as by our State's own Civil Rights Review Team have confirmed that our facilities are woefully and irreparably inadequate in their ability to serve the diverse needs of the current students as well as those we need to serve in the future.
- Clatsop Community College has been providing post-secondary education to the people of Clatsop County for nearly 50 years, and needs to be able to continue to do so in the future.
- Approximately 14% of Clatsop County's college-age residents (ages 15 – 85) enroll in Clatsop Community College classes each year.
25% of Clatsop County's high school graduates enroll at Clatsop Community College in the fall quarter following high school graduation and that number is rising.

What has been the process for locating a replacement campus site?

It has been a very deliberate, step-by-step process, utilizing information from previous site review activities and guided by a specific set of principles and criteria established by the College Board in July 2004.

- In 2004 the Board authorized the President, with the assistance of Board members Rosemary Baker-Monaghan and Frank Satterwhite, to investigate potential campus options. At the same time the Board also established a specific set of guiding principles and criteria for them to use when reviewing sites. (Available at www.clatsopcc.edu/campus.)
- A number of potential sites were reviewed and eventually two primary sites emerged: John Warren Field and the surrounding area in Astoria, and a site just east of the Skipanon River in Warrenton. After further review of both sites, including a brief feasibility study of the Warrenton site, the Board directed the President to focus on the John Warren Field location, which led to a series of intense, collaborative discussions with Columbia Memorial Hospital, Astoria School District, and the City of Astoria about the best use of that location for the county's needs. Those discussions concluded with all parties recommending that the College proceed with more in-depth analysis of the John Warren Field as a potential campus site.

What has the College Board decided and what has the College done so far?

The College Board decided unanimously to authorize the President to proceed with feasibility analysis and plan development for the John Warren Field and surrounding areas as a campus location and to hire professional services necessary to conduct this analysis.

This analysis and planning process is designed to provide the Administration and Board with a fuller understanding of this property as a site for a new campus, thereby providing the Administration and Board the critical information necessary for future decisions and steps toward the completion of a new campus for the county.

The College has begun to take steps in the feasibility and plan development process

- SRG Partnership, Inc., with offices in Portland and Seattle, has been selected by the Board to provide the college with project feasibility and planning services. SRG will begin its work with the College in early May.
- Howard Clarke, of Clarke & Associates, has been hired to provide some management services for this planning and feasibility phase of the project.

The College has formed a Campus Design Committee to work with SRG in determining feasibility and Why has the John Warren Field location emerged as the College’s primary site?

The site selection principles and criteria emphasized educational and economic partnerships that would make it possible for the college to offer enhanced educational opportunities for the people of Clatsop County in the most efficient and effective manner. On the basis of the information we have to date, the John Warren Field area best meets these criteria.

- The John Warren Field site affords the college density of economic activity, proximity to educational and community service partners such as the Aquatic Center, Columbia Memorial Hospital, OSU Seafood Research and Consumer Center, Liberty Theatre, Columbia River Maritime Museum, and Clatsop County Heritage Museum, and joint City-College Library development possibilities.
- The John Warren Field site also keeps the college closer in proximity to the college’s MERTS/IMTC campus and to the college’s Performing Arts Center (PAC), making it possible for the college to make more interactive and productive use of these existing locations.

Specifically, the benefits afforded the College by being located at this site may include:

- Infrastructure and other support development resources via the Astor East Urban Renewal District (in which this site is located)
- Construction and operational resources for a joint Astoria City-College Library
- Programmatic and facilities resources through partnership with, and physical proximity to, the Astoria Aquatic Center
- Shared parking resources with City of Astoria and other area neighbors
- Programmatic and other resource partnerships with Columbia Memorial Hospital, OSU Seafood Research and Consumer Center, Liberty Theatre, Columbia River Maritime Museum, and Clatsop County Heritage Museum.
- Utilization of classroom/lecture space available at Coming Attractions Cinema

Is the John Warren Field location really big enough for now and in the future?

What about parking? And traffic?

The feasibility analysis that the Board has authorized will address the question of how a campus can be designed in this location to meet both current and anticipated needs, including the need for sufficient parking.

- The College and SRG recognize the importance of these questions and are already working to find good answers. Efficient design and space utilization will be a key component in addressing these issues, as will coordination and sharing of some facilities and services with educational and community service partners. The College has initiated conversations with Sunset Empire Transit to learn how public transit service can help in providing efficient and affordable bus service to and from the new campus.

What will happen to the High School football field?

The City of Astoria and Astoria School District are working together with the college to identify and develop a new football field for the high school, should the John Warren Field be the site of the new campus.

Developing replacement facilities for the Astoria It is important to note that the college WILL NOT be building the new football field for Astoria Schools. Instead, the School District is an essential part of this project and the District and Clatsop Community College together are committed to making certain that the facilities needs of both of the important educational entities are met. While it is important to note that the College itself will not be using the new football field and other facilities for Astoria Schools, proceeds from the sale of District property to the College will enable the District, in partnership with the City of Astoria, to development of these facilities.

How will a new campus be paid for?

Because of effective collaborations and partnerships, we anticipate being able to build this new college campus for the people of Clatsop County, estimated cost to be around $60 Million, with about $20 Million in Clatsop County taxpayer investment.

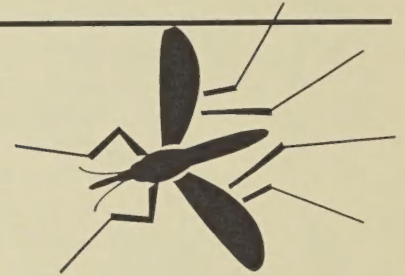

Because of the collaborative approach by which the selection process has proceeded, there are several anticipated financial partners whose contributions will substantially reduce the financial investment needed from the citizens of Clatsop County. These anticipated financial partners include the City of Astoria/Astor East Urban Renewal District, and the State of Oregon. Other possible partners include Portland State University, OSU Extension and Consumer Center, and Columbia Memorial Hospital.

Because of the partnerships inherent in this site, the cost of building a campus that provides enhanced educational opportunities will be reduced through existing facilities sharing, shared facilities development, and infrastructure development via the Astor East Urban Renewal District, in which this site is located.

What will happen to the existing Jerome Avenue Campus?

While specific plans have not yet been developed, the college is committed to ensuring that the existing campus is put to productive and positive use. As plans develop, these will be shared with the community.

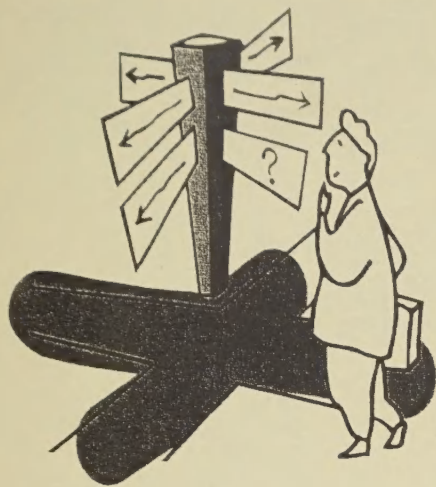

Another submission by a student for the Writers Block section of the Bandit.

As I lay on my bed, thinking about you, I feel this strong urge to grab you and squeeze you, because I can't forget last night. You came to me unexpectedly during the balmy and calm night, and what happened in my bed still leaves a tingling sensation in me. You appeared from nowhere and shamelessly, without any reservations, you laid on my naked body...you sensed my indifference, so you applied your hungry mouth to me without any guilt or humiliation, and you drove me near crazy while you drained me. Finally I went to sleep. Today when I woke up, you were gone, I searched for you but to no avail, only the sheets bore witness to last night's events. My body still bears faint marks of your enthusiastic ravishing, making it harder to forget you. Tonight I will remain awake waiting for you... you rotten mosquito.
